CLICI Summer School

a.y. 2023-2024

Dear All,

I am pleased to communicate to you that CLICI - Center for Italian Language and Culture of Tor Vergata University of Rome, has expanded learning opportunities to students including the Summer School program in Italian language.

Providing immersive and interdisciplinary experiences and increasing the commitment in international relations are the main goals of CLICI Summer School.

Participants of CLICI Summer School will be involved and encouraged to use the Italian language in different contexts, offering a theoretical and practical learning-process through interactive activities and tourist-cultural itineraries.

Therefore, CLICI Summer School offers 2 types of programmes:

1. Full Programme from 8 to 20 July 2024

- Language lessons (on-site): 30 hours of frontal lessons in Italian language and culture. Lessons will be held by teachers designated by CLICI as qualified for teaching Italian as a foreign language.

- Itineraries (on-site): Students are going to participate in 6 tourist-cultural itineraries (4 hours each) and 2 itineraries on Saturdays (8 hours each). During the trips, participants will enjoy one of Italy's largest and most stimulating cities (Rome and its surroundings) with narratives that combine different topics concerning history, literature, artistic and performative productions, craftsmanship, food and wine traditions.

2. Saturday Itineraries, on the following Saturdays: 6, 13, 20 and 27 July 2024

- Students are going to participate in 4 tourist-cultural itineraries to be held on Saturdays (8 hours each).

The CLICI Summer School will last 2 weeks, from 6 July 2024 to 27 July 2024.

Public call for applications for the admission to the CLICI Summer School a.y. 23-24 as well as the complete programmes with all its details (including registration procedure) are available on the CLICI website, at the following link: <http://clici.uniroma2.it/clici-summer-school/>
